

Microeconomics Courses

Below is a short list of the microeconomics courses that admitted students from the past several years have taken that you may find helpful starting points for seeking a course to meet the microeconomics pre-requisite. Please note: this list includes both in-person and online options that our domestic and international students have completed.

- Boston University
 - CAS EC 101 – Introductory Microeconomics Analysis
- UC Berkeley Extension
 - Econ X2 – Introduction to Microeconomics
- Harvard Extension School
 - Microeconomics Theory (ECON E-1010)
- Oxford University Department for Continuing Education
 - Microeconomics: An Introduction (O11P456SOV)
- Rutgers University
 - Introduction to Microeconomics (3) – 01:220:102
 -
- University of North Dakota
 - ECON 201 – Principles of Microeconomics
- University of Massachusetts – Amherst
 - Economics 103 – Introduction to Microeconomics
- University of California Irvine \(Coursera\)
 - The Power of Microeconomics
 - The certificate granted at the end of this course does not include your grade. Please provide a link to your Records page (under “Account” and then “Accomplishments”) in order to allow the Academic Council to view the grade you received.
- Harvard Business School
 - CORE Credential of Readiness
- American Council on Education \(ACE\)
 - Microeconomics